Every business in Magnolia center closed after blaze, smoke damage

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

A large contingent of emergency personnel responded to an early morning fire Monday at a mini-shopping mall in downtown Bay St. Louis.

Fire Chief David Gavagnie said a motorist noticed smoke coming out of the Magnolia Mall on Main Street when he passed about 5:55 a.m. and he called from his cell phone to report the problem.

The fire chief, assistant chief, and 17 firefighters were one the scene within minutes and Gavagnie said the situation was under control around 6:30 p.m. A special rescue unit and a special operations unit were part of the contingent dispatched. Gavagnie said the whole shopping mall, which contains six shops, was filled up with smoke, but firefighters found the actual fire in a shop in the rear of the mall in the Farmer's Daughter shop. They quickly extinguished the flames, he said.

The cause of the fire is under investigation by the Bay St. Louis Fire Department investigator and the state fire marshal. Gavagnie said the Farmer's Daughter suffered moderate fire damage and there was moderate to heavy smoke damage throughout the building. It is owned by Avra O'Dwyer.

Besides the Farmer's Daughter, the building is home to Ya Ya's, Bay Gourmet, Fashion Express, Just Duit and Etc. Etc. The mall remained closed throughout Wednesday, and passers-by could still smell the heavy stench of smoke. Magnolia Mall merchants, however, were back at work on Wednesday. Bay Gourmet owner Lynda Cook set up shop in the parking lot in front of Carole & Mary's, wearing an apron that said "Blackened, not burned."

Bay St. Louis Fire Department workers battle through a cloud of smoke early Monday morning to extinguish a blaze at the Magnolia Mall at Beach Blvd. and Main St. All of the mall's shops are still closed due to heavy smoke damage.

Merchants hopeful despite loss of shops, merchandise

Ellise McCollister was busy on Wednesday removing the contents of her smoke damaged shop Just Duit. Friends Gayle Lewis, Katrina Case and Rachel O'Dwyer have been helping McCollister non-stop since an electrical fire, which started in the back of the Magnolia Mall on Main St. in Bay St. Louis Monday, virtually destroyed one shop and filled other shops with heavy smoke.

"We are moving things out so they can start gutting the building," said McCollister. "We hope to have a fire sale in the near future so we can start fresh and re-open." McCollister said she was doubtful that the shop

Linda Cook, owner of Bay Gourmet, sets up shop in the parking lot Wednesday, since her store is closed due to the fire.

Hundreds mourn death of 'Coach Wimpy' Seymour

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

If a man's life is measured by the lives he has touched, Wilmer R. (Wimpy) Seymour influenced hundreds and probably thousands.

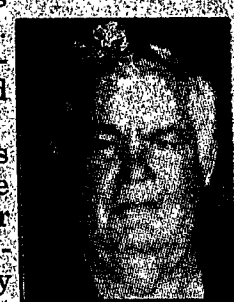

Visitation was Tuesday night for the beloved coach, former Bay St. Louis councilman and former county supervisor, who died in his sleep at home Sunday following complications from surgery. Seymour, 68, was last seen out publicly Saturday night.

The line of those coming to pay final respects to Seymour started forming in front of Edmond Fahey Funeral Home before the 6 p.m. start of visitation. By 6:15 p.m. mourners stretched out of the main doorway into the sidewalks and waited in silence for their turn to enter the funeral home.

District may add to water system

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Hancock County's Water and Sewer District hopes to add 102 more customers to its fledgling water distribution system.

At last Friday's meeting, three commissioners passed a resolution declaring the district's intent to purchase the property and equipment now serving residents of the Jourdan River Estates subdivision off Washington Street.

Margie Mayfield and heirs to the Mayfield estate offered the assets of the system to the district for a price of $50,000. Approval of the sale will be based on two independent appraisers who will be sent out to survey and evaluate the system and its inventory.

The district's consultant and certified water system operator, Zoe Bretzius-Bowers, reported she had already checked out the property. (She currently is the certified water operator for the system).

She said there are 200 lots in the subdivision, and 102 customers are already connected. Five more lots are available for new homes to be built, she said. Four others have their own well, she said.

Bowers said the system is served by a 300-foot-deep well, which was drilled in 1999. The submersible pump provides a flow of 125-gallons-per-minute to a 1,000-gallon hydropneumatic tank. The system also has a gas chlorination system and pump.

Real property that is part of the system consists of one pie-shaped lot measuring 150-feet by 100-foot and another adjacent lot measuring 100-foot by 100-foot. Both have storage buildings on the lots, she said.

The sale would include all equipment, including meters and a trenching machine, and other inventory.

"The water system currently has no cease and desist notices or any outstanding violations from the Mississippi state Department of Health," she said. "The Public Service Commission Tariff was approved on Jan. 1998."

The monthly metered rates are $15 for the first 3,000 gallons and $1.50 per thousand gallons over 3,000. No deposit is required for the hook-up to the system, she said.

The district's sewerage collection system now serves the subdivision, according to Administrator Eddie Renz.

The possible expansion comes as the District is nearing completion of a water distribution system that will serve 1,000 residents of Shoreline Park on the east side of state Hwy. 603.

The well has been dug and the pipes are in the ground, but the water can't be turned on until a 150-gallon elevated water tank is completed.

Consultant Bruce Newton with the engineering firm of Duke Levy and Associates, has been overseeing the water distribution project, which was expected to go on line last April.

Mardis Tank Co., of Batesville is being fined $400-a-day in liquidated damages for each day the project is delayed, and Newton said latest estimates are the system can go on line toward the end of December. Work crews are now putting the final coating of paint on the elevated tower, he said.

Once the system is up and running, Shoreline Park residents will also be billed $15-a-month for the first 3,000 gallons and commercial customers $17 a month for the first 3,000 gallons, plus pay a deposit fee for their water meter.

Bill Johnson, a former chairman of the District and a consultant with Compton Engineering, told Commissioners the owners of a water distribution system serving an area of Pass Christian Isles might also be interested in selling its system to Hancock County. Commissioners plan a workshop to meet with officials and discuss the possibility.

In other business, Commissioners approved a new classification establishing "Light Commercial Rates" for sewerage customers.

The new monthly charge for small businesses would be $45 rather than the $70 now charged, all commercial customers.

Renz said most of the car lots and other small businesses cropping up off Hwy. 603 have only a sink and toilet for their own personal use, and do not have a lot of volume going into the sewerage system.

Commission Chairman Al Smith, and commissioners Beanie Zoerner and Sid Davis approved the new classification, along with the resolution declaring the district's intent to buy the Jourdan River Estates water system. Commissioners Herman Johnson and Bob Fricke did not attend last Friday's meeting.

Lung Association: Flu shots more important than ever

The American Lung Association of Mississippi is urging all Mississippians to get a flu shot this year.

"There is growing evidence that influenza vaccine is especially protective against death and serious complications for individuals age 65 and over and for those with chronic medical conditions including lung disease," said Robert Hotchkiss, M.D., president of the ALAM.

"In this year of heightened concerns about anthrax and other agents of bioterrorism, the protection provided by the influenza vaccine will help reduce diagnostic confusion and possible delay in treatment of the flu."

The flu causes 20,000 to 40,000 deaths each year in the U.S., and it is estimated that 200 Mississippians die annually from complications of the flu.

"Flu and pneumonia are the fifth leading cause of death for people over 65," said Elizabeth Barber, ALAM executive director.

"The very best way to avoid hospitalization, serious complications and death related these infections is to just get the vaccine."

Most people have little or no reaction to the vaccine. The viruses in the vaccine are inactivated so that someone vaccinated cannot get the flu from the vaccine.

"Instead, the person vaccinated develops protection in the form of antibodies."

"The vaccine is 70 to 90% effective in preventing the flu, and can also reduce the severity of the flu," said Barber. "It can definitely save lives."

Flu vaccine costs between $10 to $15 at most clinics and county health departments around the state. The Mississippi State Department of Health announced on Nov. 7 that health department clinics statewide now have vaccine available for anyone who wants it.

Mississippians can go to their local county health department or private physician for a vaccination.

For free information about the flu and flu vaccinations or to locate your local health department, call the ALAM at 1-800-586-4872.

Emergency workers eye Hancock's readiness

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Is Hancock County prepared in the event of a chemical or biological attack? Area law enforcement, fire departments, and health care workers met with Civil Defense Director Lynette Carbon and Mississippi State Department of Health Officer Robert Travnicki at the Hancock County Civil Defense office on Monday to discuss the county's need for a centralized plan to protect lives.

Travnicki said that in his opinion, recent anthrax threats were not random events, and were clearly aimed at certain individuals or institutions. He said that the threat of anthrax infection to ordinary citizens on the Coast was likely to be extremely minimal.

"Forget the idea that an anthrax threat would appear in white powder form," Travnicki said. The spores themselves are clear and could be dyed any color, he said. At this point, mixing them with a white powder would just be an alert to their presence.

If anthrax were to appear now, it would likely be undetectable until someone became sick, he said.

The letter sent to Senator Tom Dashle's office contained enough of the spores to infect most of Washington D.C., said Travnicki, but because it was mixed with a white powder, officials were alerted to the threat before that could happen.

Travnicki also discussed the threat of small pox. Immunizations would be available next year if health officials decide to initiate a wide-scale program, he said. When asked whether childhood immunizations could still provide protection, he said that health officials could not give a positive yes or no. Health workers dealing directly with an outbreak receive new vaccinations every three years, he said.

In the event of an outbreak locally, a plan for quarantine of those sick or possibly exposed to the disease would need to be in place, he said. The method for such an attack are not clear, Travnicki said, because an infected person would be to sick to move around by the time they were contagious. Once the disease was present, it would spread quickly, he said and become a problem not just in the U.S., but worldwide.

Over the next few months, emergency, health care and law enforcement workers will be doing a number of simulated drills and discussing an overall plan for protection of lives in our area, said Carbon. Travnicki said he has received many calls since the September 11 attacks and was available to answer questions from professionals as well as individuals.

County to receive

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Hancock County stands to receive a total $635,000 in state Tidelands funding in the next round of presentations by the state Department of Marine Resources.

Secretary of State Eric Clark on Thursday presented a check for $5,234,640.98 to the DMR, along with a pledge that he would work to see that tidelands lease revenue stays on the Gulf Coast even though Mississippi is facing a severe budget crunch.

"This money is collected from tideland leaseholders—primarily casinos—and spent on projects to improve the Gulf Coast," said Clark. "I'm proud to work with the Coast delegation of the Mississippi Legislature and the Department of Marine Resources to build projects like Moses Pier (planned in Gulfport) without raising taxes."

The funding projects were authorized during the initial 2001 legislative session. The DMR usually makes the presentations of checks to individual counties and cities in April or May.

Hancock County projects and the amount they were funded include:

- $200,000 for continued expansion of the Bayou Caddy Marina.

- $100,000 for expansion of the Clermont Harbor Pier.

- $60,000 for improvements to the Curtis Johnson boat launch in the NASA buffer zone.

- $75,000 for improvements to the Dunbar Avenue Pier.

- $50,000 for improvements at McLeod Water Park.

- $150,000 for development of low-profile reefs in Hancock County.

Bay St. Louis will receive $200,000 for continued improvements to the Jimmy Rutherford Pier on Ulman Avenue, and the city of Waveland was allocated a total $150,000.

The city of Pass Christian will receive $200,000 for continued improvements at the

Harry Ward JUSTICE COURT JUDGE

Responsibilities of a Justice Court Judge

A Judge needs to analyze the facts of the case, then apply the law to make a decision; for instance:

You've heard on TV, "Objection, your Honor. That's hearsay and inadmissible." But under the Rules of Evidence, there are numerous exceptions to the hearsay rule on which the Judge has to make an instant decision.

The ability to make proper, yet critical decisions rapidly and decisively comes only from many years of trial experience.

As a trial attorney, I've litigated some 1,500 trials and hearings throughout more than 12 years of courtroom experience, and currently I am your Public Defender.

All a candidate needs to qualify for Justice Court Judge is a HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA or G.E.D. (Art. 6, Sec. 171, MS Constitution). Once elected, the Justice Court Judge receives only 32 hours of legal education known as the "Justice Court Judge Training Course" (MS Code Sec. 9-11-4). The next course is offered in April 2002.

If you have a court appearance after Nov. 20, you could face a Judge who is learning the law through on-the-job training. You deserve a Judge who knows the law.

I know the law.

Vote smart. Vote courtroom experience.

Please vote Tuesday, November 20.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

The Bay High Tigers will go against the St. Martin Yellow Jackets Saturday night in the 62nd annual Shrimp Bowl in Biloxi.

This will mark the first appearance of Bay High in the Shrimp Bowl, while this will mark the fourth appearance of St. Martin. Yet, both teams will be seeking their first Shrimp Bowl title, as the Yellow Jackets have never won in the Biloxi Classic.

Bay High is 7-4 for the season and fell last week to state highly ranked Picayune in 4A playoff action. In all probability Picayune will take the state championship in 4A play.

The Tigers have had a good season and have some great talent and a well-balanced team.

Bay High will be up against St. Martin, which moved up to 5A competition this year and sports a 4-7 record, of which all victories were over 5A teams.

This could be a great game, and our Tigers need to have full support from the community on Saturday night at the Yankee Stadium in Biloxi.

Congratulations to the coaching staff and all of the Tigers on their 2001 season. Best of luck Saturday night in Biloxi.

It was good to see so many veterans at the dedication of the Flag Memorial in Waveland Sunday morning.

It is great that Waveland's American Legion Post 77, along with the City of Waveland and assistance from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and several others, have made the Flag Memorial a reality.

There are still more additions to be added at the memorial located at the head of Coleman Avenue at Beach Boulevard.

As a seven-year-old, I can recall how the Town of Waveland became well represented in World War II with so many of its young men of my neighborhood in uniform. In addition, lots and lots of residents not in uniform worked at defense jobs across the Coast and in the New Orleans area.

Our veterans need to be remembered, those who have stood up for the freedoms in America in the many wars and conflicts.

Let us not forget the men and women in uniform in peace time too, because they are ready for the challenges our nation faces at a time one never knows, just like the September 11 terrorist attack.

Great to see Sunday were the Junior ROTC, Scouts and many other youngsters in the crowds. The students of today will be the protectors of our freedoms tomorrow.

In keeping with an annual tradition, once again the Hancock County Library System will sponsor its Holiday Tree Gala.

This is an event for business, organizations and schools to decorate and display a tree at our library.

Last year there were some 60 beautifully decorated trees on display at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

The 2001 Holiday Tree Gala is set for Sunday, Dec. 2, 1 to 4 p.m. at the main library.

There are some 16 different categories, and as usual, a slate of judges will have a hard time in selecting the top decorated trees. The library's Holiday Tree Gala is a very festive event and draws a large crowd each year. There are already a record number of entries for 2001, and a waiting list has been started. If you are interested being placed on the waiting list, or for further particulars on the Holiday Tree Gala, call David Wilburn at 467-5282 at the library.

Several plans for redrawing districts failed

You heard about the "tornado" plan, the "boot" plan and "block" plan in the Legislature for remapping the state's Congressional districts into four.

All failed. Bumbling lawmakers who could enact no law then were sent packing by the governor. What's next, nobody seems to know.

Okay, then what about the "all-Mississippi" plan? As in no district lines. Statewide, I'm saying.

If you think that sounds kinda crazy, it evidently wasn't thought crazy back in the 1800s when it was put on the state law books by the Legislature. And its still there, Section 23-15-1039.

It says plainly that if the state loses a seat and districts are not changed to conform to the new apportionment, the "whole number" of U.S. Representatives will be chosen state-at-large.

What's more, that election section was pre-cleared in 1986 by the U.S. Justice department under the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

Of course, Justice could "un-pre-clear" the law, but since it was cleared by a Reagan Administration Justice Department, would a Bush Justice Department reverse anything done under the revered regime of Ronnie?

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

State Rep. Tommy Reynolds (D-Charleston), who heads the House contingent of the legislative joint redistricting committee, contends Mississippi's old at-large law for electing Congressmen became a "dead letter" issue by enactment of a 1967 federal act prescribing that the U.S. House be elected by districts.

Reynolds concedes however that "we don't know what the federal courts would have to say about it" and he notes that the idea of an at-large election of Mississippi's four Congressmen has already been raised in a federal lawsuit filed by two Republican mayors in Mississippi.

Obviously, at-large election of Congressmen would be a beautiful way for the GOP to scoop up two of the four House seats from Mississippi. Or even more. Think about it.

There's unease particularly among Democratic state legislators over whether the federal court would stay its hand and not step in to put a stop to this statewide foolishness.

Certainly we are supposed to have now a "states' rights" U.S. Supreme Court under the regime of William Rehnquist. Let the states do their own thing.

However, states' rights were thrown into the ash heap in the last presidential election when five judges on the Rehnquist court pre-empted the Florida state supreme court and decided George W. Bush won the state's electoral vote, and the presidency.

Certainly a statewide election of Mississippi's four Congressmen would be a blast from the past, but the Legislature's non-action has thrown the state virtually into a no-man's-land as far as electing our next U.S. Representatives.

The state should have had a plan in the hands of the Justice Department a long time ago in order to allow Justice the customary 60 days for pre-clearance of a redistricting plan under the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

If Mississippi's March 1 qualifying deadline for candidates - moved there in 1994 by the Legislature in a self-serving trick - is not changed, we'll run out of time.

At least for starters, to give lawmakers a little more breathing room to pass a Congressional remapping plan, a quick special session of the Legislature could change the qualifying deadline back to the pre-1994 level, which would extend time for Congressional candidates to qualify to April 5. It likely would get quick approval by Justice.

If state lawmakers can't handle redrawing Congressional districts in order to reduce the number from five to four, how are they going to ever redistrict the state Legislature next year into 122 House and 52 Senate districts that are balanced along population lines and are not racially divisive?

We still have to prove we're capable of self-government, it seems evident.

In the wake of the failed special session of the Legislature, a session that was SUPPOSED to come up with a map of four new Congressional districts, speculation is rife that some pretty powerful political players beyond the membership of the Legislature are involved behind the scene.

Given that Democrats in the Legislature outnumber Republicans two to one, you would think they could easily carve out four districts which would guarantee the odd-man-out in the Mississippi's next Congressional roster isn't a Democrat.

Certainly Democratic U.S. Rep. Ronnie Shows, a former member of the state Legislature, has been around the Capitol almost daily looking after his interests. That's not surprising.

What is surprising is how those seeking to save GOP U.S. Rep. Chip Pickering's seat have brought about a Mexican stand-off with Shows backers. It's obvious Republicans are wielding considerably more influence over the proceedings than their legislative numbers would warrant.

Some close to the scene say that the stakes have been set so high by the GOP to prevent the loss of a House seat in the Mississippi remap, that the shots are being called from high up in the Bush administration.

The mystery person in the whole affair is Democratic Lt. Gov. Amy Tuck who is being accused by many of her fellow Democrats of selling out to the Republicans, with the remapping plan she pushed.

Tuck could be an eventual loser down the road if Shows winds up losing his Congressional seat. There seems little doubt in state political circles that if Shows is cut out of Congress he will target Tuck's job in 2003, tough campaigner that he is.

That is, if she would run as a Democrat. And for lieutenant governor. She may have higher ambitions.

Dunbar Village hosts blood drive Monday

Dunbar Village and the American Red Cross are inviting blood donors to become holiday heroes by giving blood just before the Thanksgiving holiday.

The blood drive will be Monday, Nov. 19, 2-7 p.m. in the Red Cross trailer at Dunbar Village, 725 Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

All donors will receive a free T-shirt courtesy of Dunbar Village and Jolly Rogers Printing and a holiday hero pin.

Blood may be given every 56 days. The Red Cross is encouraging donors who so generously gave blood after the Sept. 11 crisis to maintain their commitment to saving lives by giving again over this holiday season.

Blood donors are needed more than ever as the Gulf Coast region expects to lose as many as 11 percent of its current donors due to new travel restrictions implemented because of the potential risk of mad cow disease.

Anyone who has spent a cumulative total of three months or more in any United Kingdom country since January 1980 or six months or more cumulative time in any European country since January 1980 are no longer able to donate blood until a screening test for Crutzfeldt-Jakob disease has been developed and approved.

To give blood, individuals should be 17 years old or older, weigh at least 110 pounds, have not donated in the past 56 days and be in good health.

To make an appointment to donate, call Dunbar Village at 467-3099.

For information about hosting a blood drive or helping as a volunteer, call the American Red Cross at 1-888-432-5663.

Seymour -- funeral services

the funeral home was soon overflowing with vehicles, and many people parked blocks away, walked to the funeral home and took their place in line.

One person who arrived about an hour after the doors opened said he and his wife inched up the line for two hours and 15 minutes before reaching the main parlor. Visitation was supposed to be over at 10 p.m., but the people kept coming, and a funeral home spokesman said viewing continued until past midnight.

The mourners included those who came under Seymour's guidance over the 33 years he served as athletic director and coach at Bay High School. Among them were some of the county's top athletes, leading business people and current and former local politicians.

The long lines continued when the funeral home reopened on Wednesday, and family members said those whom Seymour taught who later moved away also came back from Louisiana, from Alabama and other areas to pay their respects. One athlete who played for Seymour drove seven hours from Alabama to get to Bay St. Louis, they said.

Inside the parlor, there was a celebration of a life well spent rather than sorrow over a life that was over. A stuffed tiger, the mascot of Bay High School, was perched on the front of the coffin. A book of inspirational poems was tied around its neck.

Pictures of Seymour with his loving wife, Mary, were inside the coffin, along with others recalling family moments. Another set of photographs taken at various points of Seymour's life was displayed alongside the casket.

Those who knew him as a coach and those who served in public office with him remembered a man who you could talk to, a man who was genuinely interested in the youth of the community and in the future of Hancock County.

Under Seymour's guidance, Mike Necaise rose to prominence in the state's basketball ranks, and he would later become Chancery Court Clerk of Hancock County.

"He touched my life in so many ways," said Necaise, whom Seymour coached at Bay High School from 1964 to 1967. "I always called him coach," said Necaise. "Everybody did. He never lost that title."

"We've been in constant contact with each other for the last 40 years," said Necaise. "I'm fortunate to have known him."

Necaise called Seymour, "a genuine, loyal, humble and gentle person."

As a politician Necaise said Seymour, "always had an open arm and open ear for anybody."

Circuit Court Clerk Pam

Metzler said she knew Seymour in Junior High, in High School, long before he got into politics.

"He was a wonderful human being, always had to talk to you," said Metzler.

Seymour had a great influence on the hundreds of students he came into contact with over the years, Metzler said.

"He believed athletics built character and morals," said Metzler. "And, he took that belief into politics."

Metzler said, while in public office, Seymour always had the youth at heart, making sure ballfields and other recreational activities were available in the county.

Seymour also influenced the paths his sons would take. Son Steve was elected to his District 3 seat on the Board of Supervisors in 1996 and is serving a second term. Son Wilmer Junior is the head basketball coach and assistant football coach at St. Stanislaus.

Former Hancock County School Supt. Terry Randolph went to college with Seymour back in the days when the University of Southern Mississippi was known as Mississippi Southern College.

"He was popular on campus, well respected, and that popularity followed him into the sports and political arenas," said Randolph.

"He was loved by his kids, well liked by his peers and associates," said Randolph.

As a politician, Randolph said Seymour was "approachable."

"He always made people feel good. He listened. He was easy to talk to," said Randolph.

Robert Peterson served with Seymour on the Board of Supervisors, and was stunned Monday when he heard Seymour had passed.

"Coach was one of the finest fellows I've met in my life, and one of the finest supervisors I've ever served with," said Peterson.

"He always had the people's interest at heart. He was a straight up and down fellow, and did whatever he thought was right."

Seymour's passing was seen by many locals as the continued changing of the old political guard. He becomes the fifth former supervisor to die in recent years. He was preceded in death by Supervisors Alton "Dolph" Kellar, Mike Ladner, Howard Lizana and Roger Dale Ladner.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Wednesday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Burial was at St. Mary Cemetery.

Besides his sons, Seymour is survived by his wife, Mary Francis Ladner Seymour, a daughter, Gina Seymour Powell, and six grandchildren.

Crime -- Cute Little Shoppe

Waveland police responded to a call from owners on Sunday, who called to report the crime, said a release from Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell. Officers arrived to discover that the business had been burglarized and that a large amount of jewelry and cash were missing, the report said.

After investigation, four suspects were arrested in connection with the burglary, the report said.

Joseph Eugene Noble Jr., 18, of Waveland was charged with two counts of Commercial Burglary and one count of Petit Larceny. Bond was set at $21,000.

Jessica Lynn Smith, 19, of Bay St. Louis was charged with one count of Receiving Stolen Property and her bond was set at $1,000.

Two other suspects 14 and 15 year old juveniles, were charged with two counts of Commercial Burglary.

Officers responding to the call were Sgt. Brent Anderson, Patrol Officers Mac Coward, Elfrén Acosta and Robert Gavagnie Jr. Investigator James Goss is in charge of the case. Most of the missing items have been recovered.

"It makes me very sad. This was the first day we were open," said owner Kathy Pinn.

"But police acted quickly, found the suspects and returned most of the stolen items."

would re-open before Christmas.

"Originally we had hoped for that but now we aren't sure if that is going to happen," she said. "I started this business from nothing ... I even cut a pair of black velvet Christmas shorts to make a cloth to lay jewelry on ... but I have a lot of faith and God brought me five good years. I have faith that things will work out."

Along the street other business owners were already holding fire sales. Pat Walker-Fields, owner of The Farmer's Daughter, where the fire started, said she wasn't sure yet if she would re-open the shop.

"We had all our Christmas merchandise and now we are selling virtually everything at half price. I had only been at this location since September," Walker said.

Further down Main St., Lynda Cook was holding a fire sale for her store, The Bay Gourmet.

"I plan to re-open," Cook said but first we need to sell all the smoke damaged merchandise so we can restock and get going. This fire has been unfortunate for all of us, but we can do this."

Derelict vessels to become artificial fishing reefs

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) and the Mississippi Gulf Fishing Banks will be turning derelict vessels into artificial fishing reefs Monday and Tuesday in fish haven areas 15 miles south of Petit Bois Island.

The 200-foot barge and 150-foot metal boat will be transported from Bayou Portage in Pass Christian.

The DMR's Derelict Vessel Removal Program will be paying for the cost of cleaning and preparing the vessels for removal - about $29,700.

The Mississippi Gulf Fishing Banks will provide for transporting the vessels and sinking them in their designated areas. GulfStream Marine of Biloxi will be removing, cleaning, transporting and sinking the vessels.

"Through a joint effort with the Mississippi Gulf Fishing Banks, the Derelict Vessel Removal Program is able to remove these potentially navigational hazards and create additional fishing grounds for the public and for future generations of sportsmen," said Irvin Jackson, DMR Derelict Vessel Removal Program manager.

The Derelict Vessel Removal Program is funded annually through the Tidelands Trust Fund Program. The Tidelands Trust Fund Program consists of funds derived from the lease rentals of tidelands and submerged lands.

Revenues are collected by the Office of Secretary of State, appropriated by the state legislature and administered by the DMR.

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the State by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent, uplands and waterfront areas to provide for the optimal commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources consistent with environmental concerns and social changes. PRCC Information Technology Building opens Pearl River Community College's Information Technology Building is now open for business on the main campus and Steve Howard could not be happier.

Howard, director of Information Technology at PRCC, says having all college information systems managed under one building will help school operations run smoother.

"We have been spread out in three or four different buildings for the past six years," said Howard, who is in his 17th year at PRCC.

"Now, we are back together, consolidated into one central location. All of our equipment is in one place and we will be better able to service that equipment and keep it going."

The Information Technology Building is located in the old administration building. The six-month renovation project cost $408,000.

Having personnel and technology equipment for the division all in the same facility makes this the communications center for the campus.

"All the equipment includes the e-mail system, the Internet, networking, telephone and administrative software," said Howard.

"Students can come by here to pick up their pin number. That pin gives them access to their grades, and online, registering for classes, and their pipeline account."

Before the move this fall, Information Technology was located on the second floor of Crosby Hall, which will soon undergo extensive renovations.

Those plans include expanding the cafeteria and book distribution area, adding a lounge area with views into the courtyard and building carrels for students to use between classes.

The Information Technology Building contains eight offices, a conference room, facility to repair PCs and a training facility for 15 to 20 people.

"The training room is used primarily for training faculty and staff on administrative software and various PC packages," said Howard. "We've also done some community training as well."

The building also features a display case in the front to showcase some of the first computers used on the PRCC campus.

Santa's elves at work at Bay Fire Department

Bay St. Louis firemen have swapped out their hard hats for their Santa hats in preparation for delivering gifts for Christmas to Hancock County children in need.

First on their agenda is to register children from families who need assistance. Registration is monitored, and applicants need to supply the following information, without exception, for eligibility:

- Child's birth certificate and social security number
- Proof of Hancock County residency, such as a current utility bill, electric bill, or license tag receipt in the name of parent or guardian
- Name, age, sex of child.
- Name, address, telephone number of child's parent or guardian

Gulfview tribute to Veterans

Gulfview Elementary, 6590 Lakeshore Road in Bay St. Louis, will conduct a Tribute to Veterans today at 1:30 p.m.

Several veterans will be on hand for the event, and the Hancock High School Band and Fine Arts Department will perform musical tributes.

Songs planned include The Star Spangled Banner, Battle Hymn of the Republic, God Bless America, America the Beautiful, Taps, and God Bless the U.S.A.

Other aspects of the program include the Pledge of Allegiance, a moment of silence, student tributes, and a surprise closing activity.

For more information, contact Principal Jan White at 467-4655.

Said Howard, "This building is going to allow better student access to us because it is located in the middle of campus. The handicap access is much better. And it should make registration a little easier, too."

Registration began Nov. 1 and will continue until Dec. 7, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, 310 Old Spanish Trail.

"This is a busy time for the Doll and Toy Fund. We are soliciting aid from the public to help us meet our mission, making sure that the families we served are in need and keeping the public apprised of our progress."

"We count on those business, civic and social groups who help us by having new toy drives, such as the Mississippi Motor Sports Magic Toy Parade, the Asgaard Motorcycle Club, Whitney Bank, and others," said Gary Maurice, assistant fire chief and Doll and Toy Fund coordinator.

Fire ant control in gardens

BY DR. J. PAT HARRIS
Extension Entomologist

Fire ants are a nuisance and sometimes a very painful pest to farmers and gardeners in Mississippi. It is unlikely we will eradicate this pest any time soon, but we can remove the problem associated with them with good management.

This involves reducing their populations to tolerable levels by using safe and effective methods of control.

An application of diazinon granular or liquid, broadcast and soil incorporated, in early spring prior to planting will be a big step in managing these pests for gardeners.

An early spring application is ideal, because it controls newly developed queens before they leave on their nuptial flights and establish new colonies.

A follow-up application in midsummer and another one in the fall is generally necessary. These applications may involve an insecticide drench using diazinon or sevin. Generally it takes 1 to 2 gallons of water to effectively drench a fire ant mound.

A mid-morning drench treatment is best when the sun starts warming up the colony.

Broadcast application or mound treatment with diazinon granules may be your best method of control when population densities reach an intolerable level.

Granules may be picked up by foraging ants looking for food, taken back to the ant colony, passed through the food chain, and fed to queen ants.

However, watering granules into the soil is preferred. Killing queens is the only way to eliminate fire ant colonies. Granules should be applied when ground temperatures are between 70 and 90 degrees F.

For use in home gardens, the insect growth regulator Extinguish is available. Follow the instructions on the label.

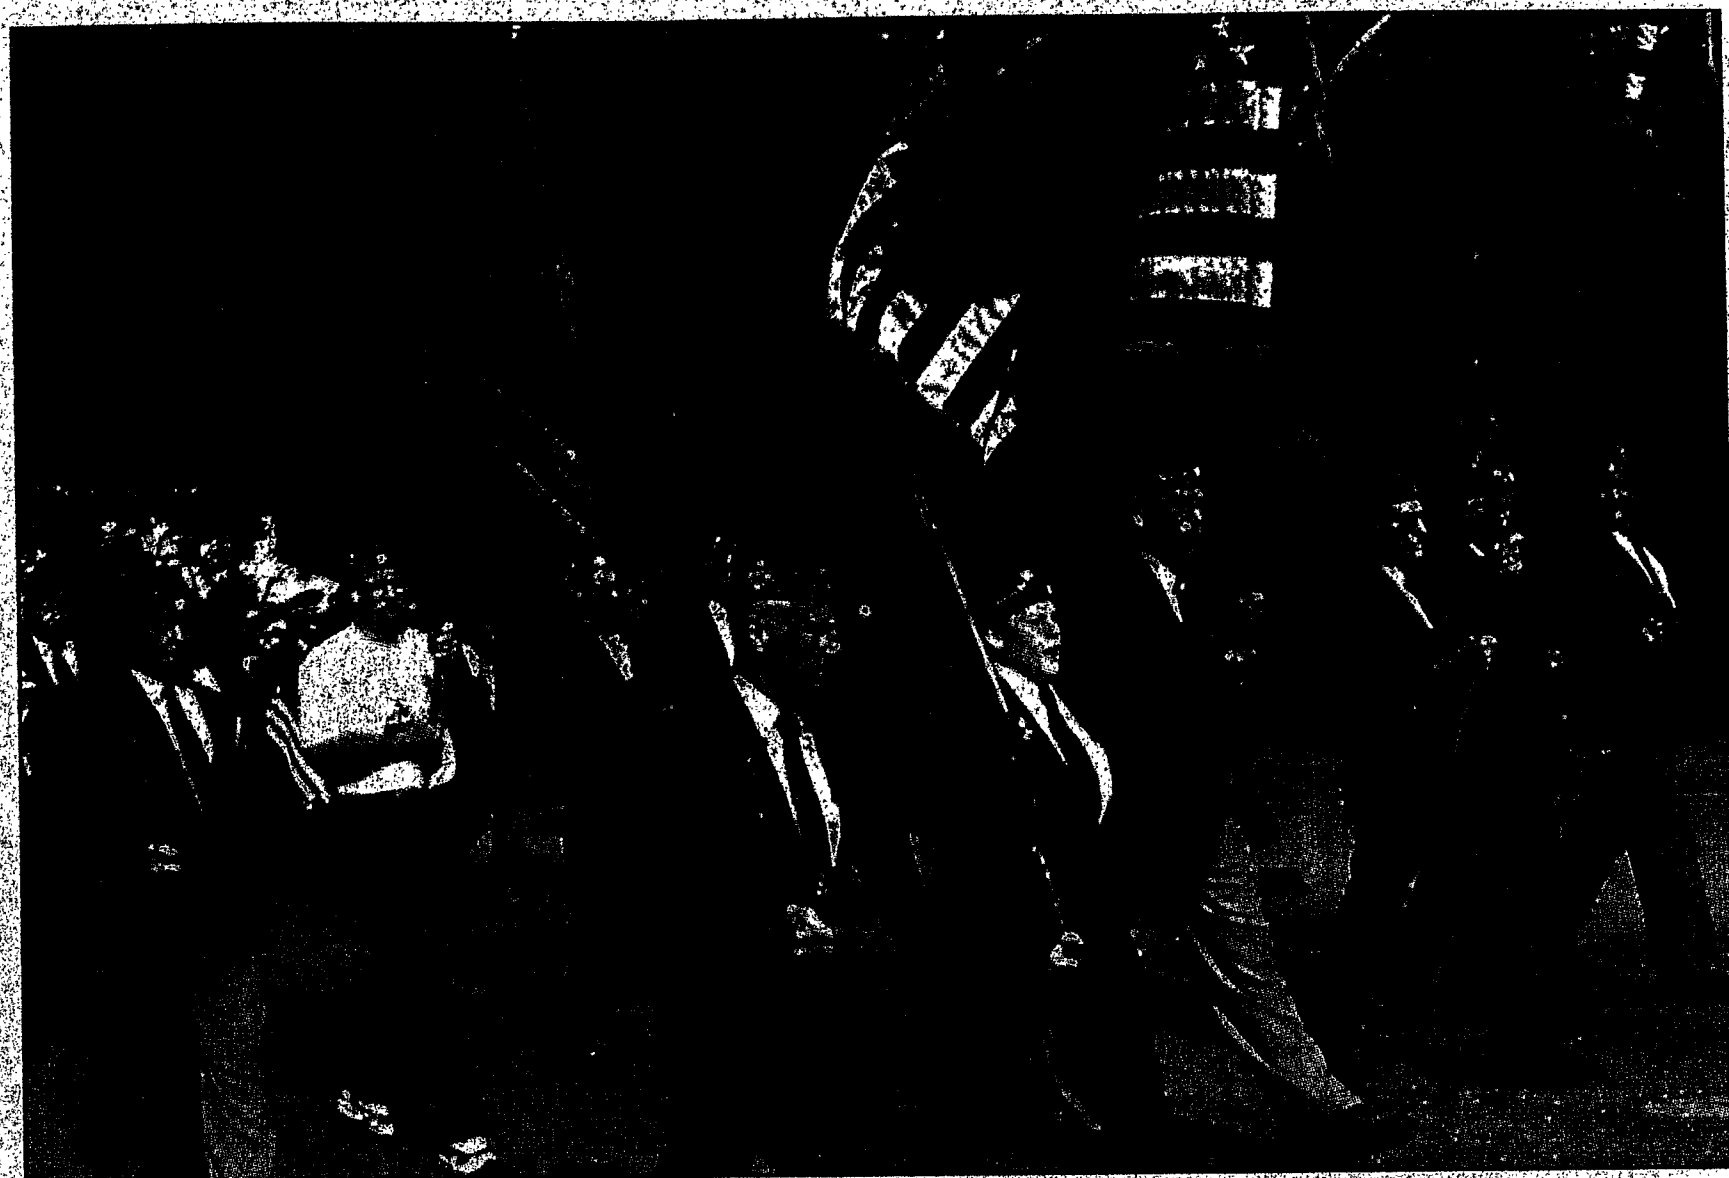

Summer and fall applications should be applied in the afternoons when temperatures are cooler. Granules may rapidly degrade on hot, sunny days.

By the time ants pick them up, heat may have broken down the product, losing its effectiveness. Mound drenches would be most effective and would give a quicker kill of adults and immature.

When treating mounds with any insecticide, do not disturb mounds before treating. If you do, the colony will immediately

Bay, Hancock & Pass lose on gridiron; Barrett stands tall as player of the week

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Bay High, Hancock and Pass all came up on the short end of the stick on Friday, November 9, on the high school gridiron. The Tigers suffered defeat at the hands of the Picayune Marion Tide in the 4A playoffs while Hancock was held out of the 5A playoffs by the Oak Grove Warriors. The Pirates of Pass High hosted Laurel High School last Friday and were pushed out of the 4A state playoff picture.

Bay High traveled to Picayune last week to tangle with the state's No. 3 ranked team. Picayune opened up a 24-0 lead over the Tigers en route to a 45-14 win. However, the Bay High Tigers had their shining moments. Quarterback Adam Barrett saved his best offensive performance for last as he threw for 288 yards and rushed for 28 yards on three carries.

He scored the Tigers' first touchdown and a two-point conversion.

While Barrett was guiding his offense, the Mardon Tide machine rode their offensive line to victory. Picayune used their traditional running game to separate themselves from the Tigers. The offensive line provided the necessary means for Juwan Chambers and Ion Oliver to run for over 300 yards against the Tiger defense.

This year was the Tigers' first trip to the state playoffs since 1993. As a result of their fine season, the Tigers will get one more game this year. The Tigers have been picked to play in the annual Shrimp Bowl Classic against the St. Martin Yellow Jackets at Yankee Stadium on Saturday, November 17.

The Tigers stand at 7-4 overall with a chance to finish the season at 8-4, which would be the most wins in a season Bay High has tallied since 1993. Even if the Tigers are not victorious, it has still been a memorable season. Not enough can be said for the what the team and coaching staff has accomplished. Congratulations to the entire organization!

Hancock was upended by the Oak Grove Warriors last Friday 48-20. The loss dashed the hopes of a Class 5A playoff berth for the Hawks but it did not diminish what happened in Kiln this season. Senior workhorse Chase Sackett had a tremendous offensive game for Hancock. He rushed 14 times for 158 yards and two scores in the loss. Hancock ended the season with a 7-4 overall record. A tremendous amount of people did not give the Hawks a fighting chance in Class 5A this season. Couple that with a treacherous road schedule and you had the ingredients for a losing season. However, the Hancock players and coaches did not see it this way. Instead, they saw it as a way to put themselves on the big map of Mississippi football. And, what an imprint they left.

With wins against top opponents such as Hattiesburg, Meridian, and Natchez, the Hawks have showed they can play the 5A schedule. While Hancock loses seven star seniors, there are more bright stars rising. One star returning for next year is quarterback Brandon Nécasse. He has several school records in his sights. So, the excitement is far from being over in Kiln. Way to go, Hawks!

The Pirates capped off their best season in recent memory. Pass High fell to the Laurel Golden Tornadoes 28-0 in the first round of the Class 4A state playoffs. But, much can be said for the Pirates success this year. With Pass High making the playoffs in 2001, it was the first playoff berth for the new 4A school since 1948. And, it was the school's first on-campus playoff game in history. Pass High ends their season with a 9-2 overall record and runner-up in Division 8 Class 4A.

With players like Calvin Woods, Reggie Dedeaux, Jason Lizana, Corey Brown, Maurice Hardnett, and others, the Pirates provided the fans with great exhibitions of speed and power football at McDonald Field.

These players have helped set the tone for future Pirate teams. Look for more great things from the school across the Bay. The foundation for some more wonderful things in the future is being laid.

The Player of the Week for Week 11 is Bay High's Adam Barrett. The senior quarterback had his finest moment under center as he accounted for 316 yards of total offense. SSC cross country places fourth

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus Rock-aways cross country team recently competed in the Mississippi High School Cross Country Championships on November 3.

The Rocks placed fourth overall in Class 4A which is their highest finish under head coach Steve Flannery. The state champion was Pearl High School followed by Oxford High School, Saltillo High School, and then SSC.

Jake Raines won the state individual title setting a new state record in the process with a time of 15:24. SSC's highest finisher was sophomore Kyle Lewis who placed fourth overall. Two of the three runners ahead of Lewis were seniors.

Cody Cannon placed 19th overall and was the only freshman in the Top 20. Josh Lingsch placed 24th overall for the Rocks to round out the top three finishers of the team. Other members of the team that competed were Troy Johnston, Michael Leonard, Will Boxx, and Tony Echevarria. One of SSC's top runners went down with a hip injury and was not able to compete.

The Rocks won the Division 8 Championship at East Central the previous week. In the division championship, the Rocks defeated D'Iberville for the first time in six years.

SSC head coach Steve Flannery commented, "We were a little disappointed in finishing fourth. However, we are a young team compared to the other school competing. If you couple our youth with the finish then it was a solid finish for us.

We ran three freshman, two sophomores, one junior, and one senior. It hurt us not having Allen Leone running but I am very proud of the way the team ran. We are headed in the right direction and we will be back next season."

Hawks nipped by Panthers

The Hancock Hawks were nipped by the Pascagoula Panthers 89-85 in high school boys' basketball action on November 8 in Kiln. The Hawks were led in the game by Cody Ladner's 31 points. Ladner was 15-for-18 at the charity stripe for the Hawks.

John Bissel added 17 points while Damion Cuevas and Daren Boone chipped in 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Eric Watson led the Panthers with 30 points followed by Chad Purdy with 20 points. Price Coleman and Josh Miller rounded out the double-digit scorers with 15 and 14 points, respectively.

Bay splits games with pesky Hornets

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers and the Poplarville Hornets split a pair of non-division games on Tuesday, November 13, at the Tiger Dome in Bay St. Louis.

The Lady Hornets (3-0) stormed back in the second half to sting the Bay High Lady Tigers 65-62. In the men's game, the Tigers held off a pesky group of Hornets for a 70-63 victory.

Lady Tiger head coach Debbie Triplett stated, "We were leading going into the fourth period. We committed several turnovers that helped Poplarville on the offensive end. Poplarville did a good job of rebounding and getting some second chance points. We are still a young team and our inexperience hurt us a little in the game tonight."

Bay High (3-3) held a 20-point lead over the Lady Hornets before Poplarville stormed back in the second half behind the play of team leader Kira Tillman.

Tillman scored 15 points, all in the second half, to lead her team. Teammate Nikki Smith, Cicely Tatum, and Diana Wallace rounded out the double-digit scorers with 13, 11, and 10 points, respectively.

Annette Smith, Poplarville head coach, stated, "It was a hard-fought game for both teams. We got down huge in the first half but pulled together and worked hard in the second half."

In the boys game, the Tigers (3-0) showed signs of fatigue late in the game but pulled together to hold on for the 70-63 win.

First-year Bay High head coach Danny Grieves commented, "I knew Poplarville had a strong team and they showed it tonight. We started out real strong and then experienced some lapses. However, we were able to regroup and pull together for the win."

The Tigers held a 43-25 advantage and eventually got up 28 points on the visitors from Pearl River County before the Hornets (3-1) surged back to make it an eight-point game late.

When the Hornets began to put the Tigers against the wall, Bay High was able to regroup and play hard. Coach Grieves stated, "This team plays as hard as any team that I have coached in my 21 years in the profession. That is the sign of a good team. This team is hungry for hard work and hungry for discipline. We are still in the formative stages of learning the system. We have some players that just got out of football and are not yet in basketball shape and still learning the plays. This team has two primary areas of focus. The first is to play hard and smart, at the same time. You can't have one or the other. Secondly, we need to get our new players in basketball shape."

Grieves comes to Bay High from Morton High School where he had coached for four years. While at Morton, Grieves guided his team to the state championship and a 35-0 record in

The Tigers were led by balanced scoring with four players in double-digits. Zach Nichols and Renard Elzy each scored 17 points while Corey Todd added 16 and Rudy Lymuel 12 points.

Ethan Smith led the Poplarville charge with 26 points as the Hornets outscored Bay High 28-12 in the fourth period.

Poplarville head coach John Miller stated, "The Tigers have a tremendous player in Renard Elzy."

"Defensively, we did not do a good job on him. I was pleased with how we hung in there and didn't hang it up being down 28 points at one point in the game. We have moved to Class 4A this season, and now we need to start playing at that level. We did some good things tonight but we have to play more consistent overall."

The Tigers' next game will be home against the Vancleave Bulldogs on Friday, November 16. The game will be the division opener for both schools.

Pearl River sweeps Miss. Delta in b'ball

Pearl River swept Mississippi Delta in men's and women's non-division community college basketball action Thursday with the Lady Wildcats taking an 80-74 victory, while the Wildcats blew out the Trojans 104-79 in their season opener.

Tiffany Turnage had 11 a piece. Saprana Reed scored 10.

In men's action, Pearl River led 57-39 at the half behind sharpshooters Wand Steward of Houma, La., and Yandell Brown of Eastman, Ga. The Wildcats outscored the Trojans 47-40 in the second half to ice the 25-point victory.

Brown led PRCC with a game-high 26 points in his Wildcat debut, including four three pointers, while Steward, an All-Region XXIII and All-State point guard a year ago, added 22 and hit a career-high five treys. Albert Sullivan of Lake Wales, Fla., added 13, while former Hattiesburg High standouts James Ball, Corey McKinley, Phillip Hill, and Keesler Johnson contributed nine, eight, six, and five points, respectively. Zeke Davis of St. Stanislaus, John Kent Jr. of Forrest County AHS, and Justin Miller of North Forrest scored four a piece, while Broderick Collins of Houma added two.

Gerald Parker and Scottie Hayes paced Mississippi Delta with 16 each. The annual Lady Wildcat Classic with Tuesday's 83-58 lopsided romp over Globe Institute of Technology to improve to 2-0 overall for the year.

Pearl River returns to action Tuesday at Faulkner State in Bay Minette, Ala. The Lady Wildcats take on FSCC's women Tuesday (time to be announced), while the Wildcats play in the FSCC Tournament Tuesday and Wednesday (opponents, times to be announced). Rocks open season with 7-0 win in soccer

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaw soccer team bolted to a 4-0 halftime lead en route to a 7-0 win over the Biloxi Indians in the season opener on Thursday, November 8, in Bay St. Louis.

Brennan Brooks scored two goals and tallied an assist in the win to lead the Rocks. Peter Doty, Jeffrey Hansell, Tommy Henry, Patrick Natal, and Drew Cranford all scored one goal each. Kyle Lewis chalked up two assists in the game while Michael Leonard, Cranford, and Hansell each added an assist.

The defense of Stephen Kulikowski, Jimmy Strickland, Jeremy Boelte, and Bryce Breland helped keep the Indians at bay while Sean Olsean was credited with the shutout in goal for the Rocks.

SSC head coach Andy Kivlan stated, "I was very pleased with our performance in the first game of the season. We received lots of help off the bench in the game. The high points of our game tonight were the passing game, communication between the players, and there wasn't a lapse in intensity when we took a large lead."

The next game for the varsity and junior varsity Rocks will be on Tuesday, November 13, against the Mercy Cross Crusaders 'between the walls.' The Rocks will also play home against the Long Beach Bearcats on Friday, November 16. The Junior High and JV squads will be on the road at Long Beach on Wednesday, November 14. This year the Rocks will participate in Division 8 Class 4A along with Bay High, Stone County, Pass Christian, and Picayune.

He cautioned also about land speculators "trying to make money on you." Stennis then emphasized that the world situation is such that "the entire nation must arm to the teeth although there is no shooting war" and cited the vital nature of the space race.

America's superiority of a few years ago with the atom bomb was lost when the Russians got a vehicle into orbit first. H.H. (Hardin) Shattuck, manager of Coast Electric Power Association, was master of ceremonies an assisted in making arranging the meeting.

Shattuck reported that Coast Electric would lose 879 electrical customers, over 10% of the co-ops membership. Rev. J. SIXTY YEARS AGO

November 7, 1941 - The power limitations of Order L-16 of the Office of Production Management, received by Mississippi Power Company on November 1, are of two types, announced L.P. Sweatt, vice-president and general manager of the company to The Echo, in commenting on the first night of blackout under the OPM order which effects Bay St. Louis.

"The first type of curtailment is embraced in a series of 'prohibited uses,' including sign lighting, show-window lighting; outline and ornament lighting; outdoor lighting; flood lighting or field lighting for amusements or sports; and interior and exterior lighting for decorative or advertising purposes.

"Under the order, use of electric power is prohibited at once." The other type of limitations, calls for assigning of quotas to all customers using in excess of 2500 kilowatt hours per week, excepting such users, classified by the order exempt, who are engaged in defense production or essential to civil-

'Barbering with style,' and learning a valuable career

Archeologists believe the first haircutting occurred during the Stone Age with oyster shells or sharpened bones.

During the Dark Ages, the clergy used barbers as assistants to "bloodletting" - a cure for illnesses using cuts to the body, which were allowed to bleed.

By 1163, the era of barber/surgeon/dentists began and lasted for six centuries. By the end of the 1800's, barbers were no longer permitted to perform any kind of surgery.

Slowly, the barbershop evolved into a place for men's haircuts, where women rarely ventured. However, by the mid-sixties, when long hair for men became the fad, huge numbers of barbershops began going out of business.

Barbers were ill trained to meet demands for perms and hair coloring that men requested. Out of this era, barbers evolved into barber stylists.

Clelly Farmer, Pearl River Community College's barbering instructor, was one of the few barbers in Mississippi to become barber stylist during the late 60's.

When he became a barber in 1965, Farmer was aware that the traditional "shave and a haircut" barbershop would not be enough to sustain a business.

"I began taking courses and attending workshops to learn everything about hair styling," Farmer said. "When my first shop was opened in Picayune, I hired women who were trained beauticians. Our shop did extremely well because we could do anything the customers, men or women, wanted. After I closed the shop in Picayune and opened one in Poplarville, I still hired women to work in my barbershop."

In 1988, PRCC hired Farmer to instruct and organize the PRCC Barbering School. PRCC barbering students are trained in hairstyling techniques, so they could easily work in either barbershops or beauty shops.

Students must learn all of the procedures performed in salons. For example, students master perms, hair coloring, styling, manicures, braiding, and cosmetics, mustache and beard designs, facial massage and skin treatment techniques, scalp and hair treatments, and how to affix and style men's hairpieces.

Connie Rainey, a retired 30-year veteran nurse from Diamondhead, thought she'd just be learning how to cut hair.

"I wanted my son to become a barber, but he wouldn't do it, so I decided to become a barber myself," she said as she put curlers in her mannequin's hair.

"But I never thought I'd be learning how to give perms. We have to learn everything a beautician learns. I'm a people person, and that's why I decided to go into barbering after I retired from nursing."

It's less stressful, and I can sit down occasionally. When I graduate, I want to work in a quiet barber shop and cut older men's hair."

The majority of barbering students are looking for lucrative careers in barbering, which they won't have trouble finding. There is roughly a 30% shortage of stylists in the hair industry.

That means there are hundreds of employment opportunities available with an average income of $30,000 per year for experienced professionals.

After obtaining a vocational certificate from PRCC, passing the state licensing exam, and obtaining on-the-job experience, students have the opportunity to be business owners, shop managers, school instructors, state board examiners, writers, or make numerous other career choices.

To prepare students for the professional workplace, PRCC barbering students are also required to take courses that expose them to sound business practices and customer relations.

The barbering school is open to the public from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m., Monday through Friday.

For more information on the Barbering School call 403-1000 or check out the PRCC web page at www.prcc.ms.us.

Flu shots gain wider appeal in year 2001

Each year, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention places certain people at higher risk for catching the flu. These include people over the age of 65, or those with heart or lung disease, diabetes, thyroid problems, asthma, anemia, weakened immune systems and respiratory disorders. Also people in close contact with high-risk individuals should be vaccinated for their protection and their contacts.

"Anyone can be infected with the flu, and everyone can benefit from the flu vaccine," said Linda Patterson, a registered nurse and health education specialist with Mississippi State University's Extension Service.

Inhalation anthrax with its flu-like symptoms and other forms of anthrax may be making all the headlines, but the bigger threat this winter is from the flu.

Dr. David Satcher, the U.S. Surgeon General, recently reported that the flu caused 20,000 deaths nationwide last year and 100,000 hospitalizations.

Influenza is an acute respiratory infection, and its symptoms usually include fever, aches, chills, weakness, loss of appetite, and aching of the head, back, arms and legs. In addition, a sore throat and dry cough, nausea and burning eyes may accompany the virus.

Patterson said scientists work each year to develop a new vaccine that reflects the different types of influenza from the previous year. Each year the names change and the types of flu differ. The fact that a person can be infected with more than one type of influenza prevents the vaccine from being guaranteed protection.

Patterson said no vaccine is 100 percent effective, but a flu shot offers the best protection. The flu is transmitted by airborne droplets of respiratory fluids produced by sneezes and coughing. These droplets infect another person by entering into the eyes, nose or mouth.

Flu season runs from December until March. A flu shot is most effective before the season begins.

Sometimes flu symptoms appear after immunization and the flu shot is blamed. People can be exposed to infection at any time, including shortly before and after the shot. In these cases, the body has not yet had enough time to increase its immunity.

Call a physician within the first 24 hours of the appearance of flu symptoms, and a prescription medicine can greatly decrease the severity of illness.

"Complications of the flu such as pneumonia and serious lung infections are great threats to high-risk people. These flu complications are greater threats for them than the virus itself," Patterson said. Those people with allergic reactions to egg and egg products should consult a physician before being vaccinated because egg products are used in vaccine production.

Faces and Stories: Photographs by Curt Richter, consisting of approximately 100 black-and-white photographs, premieres in the United States at the Mississippi Museum of Art in Jackson.

The exhibition of portraits, landscapes and genre images, which has traveled throughout Europe, opened Nov. 10 and continues through Jan. 13.

Included among the exhibition's images are portraits of Southern authors Jimmy Carter, Pat Conroy, James Dickey, Shelby Foote, Richard Ford, Kaye Gibbons, Sarah Gilbert, Barry Hannah, Beth Henley, Walker Percy, Donna Tartt, Alice Walker, Robert Penn Warren and Eudora Welty.

Richter does not focus his lens on capturing the totality of each writer's life but instead presents a moment of reflection in the face of the pressure of, and struggles with, creativity.

What emerges is a collection of spectacular images which silently offer us insight into these writers' lives.

Of the many writers he photographed, Richter said, "They were a remarkably warm and generous group of people. What I enjoyed most of all were the conversations."

"They were open with their ideas and willing to listen to mine. What a writer creates with pen and paper is quite different than what I do with camera and film."

"There are similarities, though, between the two media, and I had many fascinating discussions regarding the process of making a thing, and trying to make it with beauty."

About the portraits, Richter continues, "In the same way a writer chooses the moments which define his character's existence, I wanted my portraits to reveal much more than what simply happened between two people and a camera one afternoon. Now the viewer can hopefully feel something of the subject's entire life."

Initially commissioned to photograph the founding members of the Fellowship of Southern Writers, Richter photographed over a seven-year period more than 200 writers associated with the South.

Approximately 100 of their images appear in the exhibition Faces and Stories as well as in the accompanying book A Portrait of Southern Writers.

The 96-page, hardcover book is available from Hill Street Press or from the MMA Museum Store for $35. MMA members may purchase the book through the Museum Store for a discounted price of $23.

In addition to photographic portraits, the exhibition includes images of the landscape and genre subjects.

Curt Richter's photographs have been exhibited internationally and are collected by museums worldwide. Presently based in Finland, American-born Richter is winner of the John Koval Portrait Award, a Guggenheim Fellowship, a Fulbright Grant, and many other awards and grants.

His images have been published in Condé Nast Traveler, Elle Decor, Esquire, Fortune, House and Garden, Metropolitan Home, Mirabella, The New York Times Magazine, Rolling Stone, Vanity Fair, Italia, as well as many other books and magazines.

The Mississippi Museum of Art is located at 201 East Pascagoula Street, in downtown Jackson.

D'head Performing Arts Society presents Marcia Ball

Diamondhead Performing Arts Society presents Marcia Ball Sunday, Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Diamondhead Country Club. Ball honed her powerful singing and deft, rollicking keyboard chops while growing up in the small town of Vinton, La. on the Texas border.

This musical and cultural frontier has produced such other roots-music greats as Gatemouth Brown, George Jones, Janis Joplin, Clarence Garlow, Cleveland Crochet, Clifton Chenier, Joe Bonsall and Johnny and Edgar Winter.

It was and still is a hotbed of country, blues, gospel, Cajun, Zydeco, rockabilly and Gulf

Marcia Ball
Coast "swamp pop," and young Marcia absorbed it all, even as she was receiving her formal piano training.

She has appeared at virtually every major festival on both continents, received glowing reviews in all major music publications, and been featured on leading radio and television programs around the globe.

She received the 1998 Handy Award for Contemporary Female Vocalist of the Year and was nominated again in 2000, as well as for Blues Instrumentalist-Keyboards.

In 1999, Ball and her band appeared in Performance At The White House along with B.B. King and Della Reese which was broadcast nationally on WETA Public Television.

Full-tilt or subtle as the moment demands, this unabashed powerhouse is at home playing roadhouse rock, jump-blues, second line syncopation (a la Professor Longhair, one of Ball's idols), R&B, deep soul and ballads.

What's more, Ball's great singing and songwriting are matched by superb piano that is eclectic and effective.

New Orleans ranked #3 city to visit, dine

New Orleans' reputation as a great city has been upheld by the readers of Condé Nast Traveler, who rated it the third best U.S. city to visit after San Francisco and New York.

Cities were rated in six categories: ambience, people/friendliness, culture/sites, restaurants, shopping, and entertainment/nightlife.

New Orleans was one of only three cities in the world to receive a 90-plus rating for food, ranking above Paris, Rome and Chicago. Travel & Leisure magazine readers think the food is the best part, rating New Orleans third on its list of "Top Cities For Food."

Only New York and Paris top New Orleans as food cities, and that trio ranked above Rome, Florence and San Francisco, among others.

"One of the best things about New Orleans cuisine is that our colorful history comes through in our food," says Sandy Shilstone, executive vice president of the New Orleans Tourism Marketing Corporation. "We love to eat, and we love to share our culinary heritage with visitors."

No plans for the holidays? Visit CNN.com to see why it rated New Orleans as a top holiday destination.

Record number of trees registered for Hancock Library's Holiday Tree Gala

A record number of businesses, organizations and schools have registered for the Hancock County Library System's 2001 Holiday Tree Gala.

The event is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 2, 1 to 4 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

"The response this year has been wonderful," said David Woodburn, Hancock County Library System assistant director.

"We are now placing tree participants on a waiting list in the event we have cancellations. The event has become the kick-off of the holiday season in Hancock County. It promotes a spirit of good will and community spirit."

Tree categories include three-foot and six-foot trees, with or without lights. Trees may be artificial or live. Decorations can be traditional or indicative of your business, organization or school.

This year's entertainment will include the St. Rose de Lima Choir and the Main Street United Methodist Church Bell Choir.

library's mascot, will visit.
